🎓 Experienced Tutor | ETH Zurich | MSc in Physics

I hold an MSc in Physics from ETH Zurich and a BSc in Applied Physics from the University of Geneva. With 15 years of experience, I specialise in tutoring IB Physics and have worked with students across A-Level, IGCSE, and GCSE curriculums. My passion for Physics ensures students succeed in their exams.

Tutoring Experience

Over the past 15 years, I’ve tutored students across multiple curriculums, including IB and A-Level, helping them build strong foundations in physics concepts like electromagnetism and mechanics. I’ve supported students in developing the problem-solving skills needed to excel in exams.

In addition to high school-level tutoring, I’ve guided undergraduates in their studies of physics and related disciplines. Many of my students have achieved top results and gone on to study at prestigious universities, using the skills they developed during our sessions to succeed in higher education.
